

Apple and Blackberry Crumble

As part of the English work on instruction writing, the children in Ladybirds looked at recipes. They decided to make their own crumble from blackberries in the school grounds. The children watched a video and read recipes before they then prepared and cooked their own crumble. They had to write their own recipe afterwards.

It was so exciting picking our blackberries in the woods at school.

I'm going to make a crumble at home.

I learnt how to use scales to weigh the ingredients.

I have never been blackberry picking before, its great fun.
